Art Unit: 1646

DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's preliminary amendment filed on 28 October 2005 is acknowledged and entered. Following the amendment, the original claims 22-24 are canceled, claims 6, 7, 9-13 and 16-18 are amended, and the new claims 25-30 are added.

Currently, claims 1-21 and 25-30 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-15, 16 in part, 18, 20, 21, 25-27 and 29, drawn to a human IL-18 antibody, a diagnostic kit thereof, a method for producing said antibody, a method for diagnosing immunological disease by measuring IL-18 in a test sample using said antibody, and a hIL-18 antagonist.

Group II, claim(s) 15, 16 in part, and 29, drawn to a hIL-18 antagonist, wherein the IL-18 antagonist is a low-molecular weight compound.

Group III, claim(s) 17, 28 and 30, drawn to a gene therapy agent.

Group IV, claim(s) 19, drawn to a method of treatment with an IL-18 antagonist.

The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

This authority considers that the main invention in the instant application comprises the first-recited product, a human antibody (and a kit thereof), and the first-recited methods of making and using that product, namely a method for producing said antibody, and a method of diagnosis using said antibody. Also included in this group is the gene encoding the antibody, an expression vector and a transformant comprising the encoding gene. The materially dissimilar products of groups II and III do not share a special technical feature with the antibody of the main invention within the meaning of PCT Rule 13.2 as they are chemical entities with different structures, and the product of group III is used for a different purpose, gene therapy, thus, they do not relate to a single invention concept with main invention within the meaning of PCT Rule 13.1. Group IV requires the "special technical feature" such as that the method is carried out in vivo, and requires living subjects and administering the antibody to a patient, which are not required in the methods in Group I. The method in Group I requires the "special technical feature" of by measuring IL-18 in a test sample, which is not required for the method of Group IV. As such, unity is lacking between Groups I and IV.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
